TURNKEY

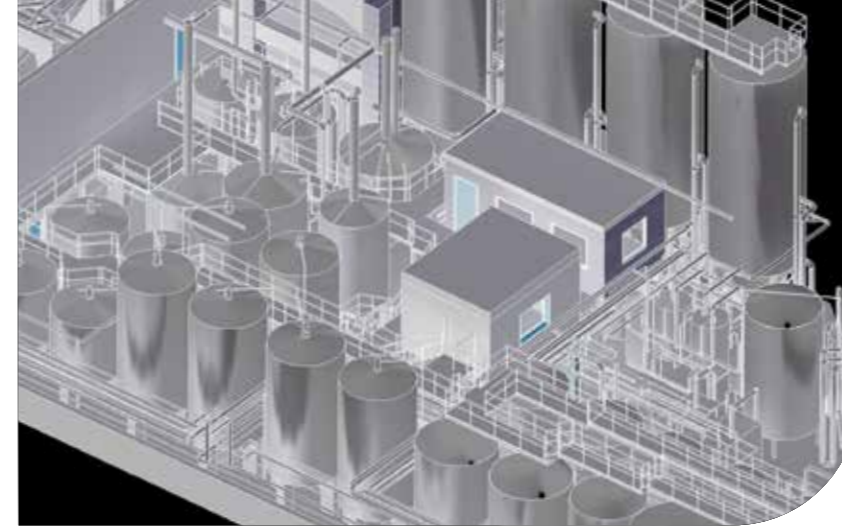

About Us

The Creative Axis, founded in 1986, has become a leading firm in the Built Environment, offering extensive expertise in the Design, Engineering, Procurement and Management of projects across the globe.

Our firm's portfolio covers all the major sectors within the Built Environment. Our offering is based on the application of a broad skills base, characterized by strong conceptual quality and innovation, all motivated by the principles of enduring sustainable design.

The Creative Axis Turnkey division was initiated 5 years ago with the vision of expanding the company's service portfolio to include for Project Management, Contracts Administration and all major Engineering disciplines within the Industrial sector. This would be the added benefit of both cost and single source of responsibility, making our services efficient and dynamic.

Our fundamental objective is to ensure that the client and ourselves become a team with the same objective in sight. We engage with our clients from project conception to project close out, collaborating on cost and feasibility analysis, development of operational readiness plans for front and back-end engineering, coordination, and overall planning.

We use modern technology to achieve optimal designs for current usage whilst also considering the project's prospective viability.

The industry is ever evolving, and at The Creative Axis, we are passionate about upskilling and furthering our knowledge base accordingly.
